The Musée de l’histoire de l’immigration will award a «Research Prize». It aims at fostering high-quality research projects that shed light on the history of migrations.

Two types of published work will be rewarded: articles published in academic journals; books. The award for each category (article or book) will be awarded every other year. The first edition of the Prize, will be launched in 2014 and be awarded in 2015 for the Articles category.

Publications should include a historical perspective. Submissions are accepted from all social science and humanities, without any restrictions regarding historical periods or geographical areas.

Submissions for the Prix de la recherche du Musée de l’histoire de l’immigration include work published in France during the year of the call for submissions and the year before regardless of the language of publication, the age, and status of the author(s).

The jury that will select the award recipient is made up of members of the Scientific Advisory Board of the Musée de l’histoire de l’immigration and external members on a voluntary basis.

Two thousand euros will be allocated each year for the Prix de la recherche. The award ceremony will take place at the Musée de l’histoire de l’immigration. In cases where there are multiple authors, the recipients will split the amount of the award.

The award laureates will then present their work at the Musée de l’histoire de l’immigration. With their permission, their presentation will be available online on the web site of the Museum.

Submissions should include a short letter written by the author that includes his or her address and an electronic copy of the publication. They should be sent to the Service Recherche, before midnight GMT on November 30th of each year at the following address recherche@histoire-immigration.fr. For books, it is possible to also post a hard copy and mail it to Service Recherche, Établissement public du Palais de la Porte dorée, 293, avenue Daumesnil, 75012 Paris.
